Social and Personal

ANOTHER fashionable affair, in which the younger members of Richmond society participated was the handsome cotillion given last evening in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel by Mrs. Philip Johnson. In honor of her daughter, Miss Mary Scarborough. The ball room of the Jefferson was arranged with quantities of palms and the walls were hung with smilax and pink buds. Bay trees and palms formed an attractive background for the receiving party, and the same color scheme of pink and green was carried out most effectively in the dining room, baskets of pink roses caught with pink tulle being used to decorate the tables at which the guests were seated for supper.

Mrs. Johnson wore a handsome black satin gown, draped in black chiffon and trimmed in rare old lace. She carried orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Scarborough wore an exquisite frock of white chiffon, built over white satin and embroidered in an Eastern design. Her flowers were of pink roses and lilies.

Miss Scarborough has been much entertained this season, and was the guest of honor recently at a very handsome afternoon reception given by her Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Caskie.

Mrs. F. B. Townsend and her daughter, Miss Polly Townsend, of Philadelphia, will arrive in Richmond on Saturday to spend some time in the city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Caskie, at their home, on North Fifth Street. Mrs. Townsend was formerly Miss Palmer, of this city, and a great deal of entertaining will be incident to her stay here.

At Norfolk Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mayo, of this city, were among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding of Miss Ethel Barbour Reynolds, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Alfred Reynolds, to William Talbot Truxton, son of Mrs. Mary Truxton, of Norfolk, which was celebrated Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock on board the United States receiving ship Franklin.

The ceremony was performed in the upper cabin, which was artistically decorated for the occasion in palms, yellow daisies and yellow chrysanthemums. An aisle from the hatch to the cabin door was formed of green bay trees, looped with smilax, and in the cabin the same effect was carried out in ropes of smilax entwined with white ribbon. Dr. Francis C. Steinmetz, rector of Christ Church, Norfolk, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of heavy white satin, embroidered in pearls and trimmed in duchess and rose point lace. Her veil was arranged with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Louis Maxfield, as dame of honor and the groom's sister, Miss Cornelia Truxton, as maid of honor, were the bride's only attendants. They wore frocks of yellow satin with lace trimmings, and carried arm bouquets of yellow daisies. Their demivels were held in place with wreaths of yellow flowers studded with rhinestones.

Mrs. Lawrence Groner was best man, and the ushers were Minton Talbot, Henry Johnson, Carl Vretman, Lieutenant Herbert Hayden, U. S. A., Lieutenant Armistead Pendleton, U. S. A., and Ensign Louis H. Maxfield, U. S. N. After the wedding a brilliant reception from 8 to 10 o'clock was held on the quarter deck of the Franklin, which was elaborately decorated with flags, Southern smilax and potted plants. Mr. and Mrs. Truxton stood under a canopy of Southern smilax and yellow chrysanthemums, and the receiving party further comprised Captain and Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Mary C. Truxton, Mrs. Maxfield, Miss Truxton and Mr. Groner. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Truxton left for a Northern trip.

Virginia Weddings.
Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Francis Sommers, of Blue Hill, Somerset, Orange county, have just announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Martha Henkel Sommers, to Ernest Lamar Gostin, of Macon, Ga., a promising young civil engineer, and a graduate of the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, in the class of 1910. The ceremony will take place this month, at the home of the bride.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Rosalie Lumpkin Bates for the marriage of her daughter, Mary Richardson Bates, to William Holmes Chapman, of Smithfield, Va., the marriage to take place at noon in Upper King and Queen Church, on December 6, 1910.

Returned From Fort Myer.
Miss Elizabeth Brander has returned to Richmond from Fort Myer, and will be here until after the holidays. Mrs. Tom Brander and Mrs. W. M. Taliaferro are spending some time at the Waldorf Hotel in New York City. To Do Mission Work in China.

Miss Anna Love Ranson, daughter of Dr. Ranson, of Harper's Ferry, will sail with the family of Bishop McKim, of the Philippine diocese, from New York, January 3, for China, where she will take the field as a mission worker of the Episcopal Church. Miss Ranson's route will be across the Atlantic and by way of the Red Sea, and many points of interest will be touched, before she reaches her destination.

Attended German in Norfolk.
Miss Lucy Fort Wortham and Miss Fanny Scott, of this city, were among those dancing at the second German given by the Norfolk German Club last Friday evening at the Ghent Club. Decorations were in Killarney buds and palms, and the German was led by William N. Wilson, of Charleston, W. Va., who has been a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. C. Barksdale Lathrop, in Richmond, was also present at the dance in Norfolk.

Supper at Gymnasium.
The gymnasium class spread will be given to-night at 7:30 in the association rooms to celebrate the victory of the push team over the pull team. Songs, speeches and marches will be features of the evening's entertainment. Miss Mary Gillman is captain of the push team, and Miss Elizabeth Black of the pull team, and the standing of the classes is 30 and 32.

Meeting To-Day.
The German Ladies' Aid Association will hold its regular monthly meeting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. Von Rosenek. Members are asked to attend.

At the Woman's Club.
Perhaps one of the most delightful lectures ever given before the Woman's Club was that on "Chackery" delivered yesterday afternoon by Dr. Leo H. Vincent, of Baltimore. In spite of the inclement weather, the audience which greeted Dr. Vincent was unusually large and most appreciative. Dr. Vincent discussed the most important works of the great novelist, and compared them with the novel of Dickens, giving long quotations from memory and bringing most vividly before his hearers characters and scenes long famous and well beloved. He gave a most interesting account of Thackeray as a man and told a great many anecdotes about the author's visit to this country. Dr. Vincent's style is very pleasing, an added attraction being the fact that he lectures without notes and brings his audience, as it were, into a common gathering of mutual acquaintances.

Miss Gay Montague has returned to Richmond, after a visit of several weeks to Miss Mary Stuart Cooke, in Roanoke.

NEGRO MURDERER CAUGHT.

Aged Woman Deceased to Death—Census

Plum's Not Ready.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Suffolk, Va., December 5.—A wire this evening from Broadnax, on the Southern Railway, says Jim Lynch, the negro murderer, has been captured.

Lynch on Sunday shot to death a white man named Buchanan.

Mrs. Margaret Beale, ninety-two years old, was burned to death in Nansemond county, near Holland. Mrs. Beale, who lived in a chair, was found a few minutes later and found her enveloped in flames. Mrs. Beale died before being able to disclose the cause of the accident.

Suffolk is the only city in Virginia

whose census figures were not given out with those of the State. In response to a query, Director Durand wired this afternoon that they are not ready. The delay is accounted for by the fact that Suffolk was a town when the enumeration was had.

From now until the close of the local option campaign, all white preachers

have agreed to deliver the issue from their pulpits every Sunday night. "If any of you don't like temperance talks," one of the ministers declared

last night, "it will not do any good to attend some other church. It's just as bad there."

Fatal Affair at Galax.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Roanoke, Va., December 5.—A Galax

special says that Cable Ramer, of that place, was fatally stabbed by

Ely Goodson, of Law Gap, N. C., in a street fight at Galax. Goodson fled, leaving his team of horses standing.

Great Aid to Farmers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Winchester, Va., December 5.—Nine

inches of snow has fallen in the lower

Shenandoah Valley since 7 o'clock this morning. Farmers declare it is worth thousands of dollars, in view of the fact that a drought has prevailed since early autumn, and water was very scarce in many localities.

Young Woman Ends Her Life.

suicide last night by swallowing carbolic acid. She came from Pulaski county.

COURT IN SESSION.

Judge Wells Presides in Absence of Judge Hanson.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Spotsylvania, Va., December 5.—The regular December term of the Circuit

Court of Spotsylvania county convened to-day, and owing to the continued illness of Judge John E. Mason, Judge

E. H. Wells, presiding in the absence of Judge Hanson. A regular grand jury was empaneled and brought in an indictment against one Evans for grand larceny. Evans will be tried for this offense at this session of the court.

FIRST SNOW OF SEASON

AT FREDERICKSBURG

Ground Covered to Depth of Several

Inches—Change in Control of Assembly Home and School.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Fredericksburg, Va., December 5.—

Snow commenced falling here at an early hour this morning, and continued

at a rapid rate until the day broke.

The ground was covered to a depth of several inches. It is the first heavy snow of the season.

A decree has been entered here in the Corporation Court directing that all of the property of the Assembly Home

and School, in the city of Fredericksburg, be transferred to the Executive Committee of the Christian Education

Relief of the Presbyterian Church of the United States. The decree provides that the Assembly's Home and School

shall be continued in this city, and

under this decree it will receive support from the entire Presbyterian

Church, South, which puts it on a better basis than ever before.
